LARGE CORPORATIONS,-The "Bay State Mills" are at Lawrence, Massachusetts. They gave employment to 2500 hands and consumed annually three million pounds of wool. The capital was $1,800,000. The milis manufactured broadcloths, cassimeres, doeskins, satinets, flannels, beaver cloths, table and plane covers, shawls of all kinds and qualities, and printed felt car-

Pots.
The "Middlesex Mills" are at Lewell, and give employment to 1400 hands, and consume annually, 1,600,000 pounds of wool. The goods manufactured consist of broadclotts, docskins, cassimeres, army and navy cloths, falts for ladies' and mon's sacks, and plain and ribbed coatings.

CITY MATTERS.

Seventh Ward was opened for the reception of punits, yesterday morning. The day was bright not be shared 25 cents per line for the first and (the hour of opening) there might be seen quite and beamiful, and a few minutes before 9 o'clock a regiment of children, of all ages from 4 to 20, harrying, with eager and happy faces, to the now school. In the High School Department, where Mr. McKindley presides, the 56 pupils, admitted after examination, were all present .--In the intermediate Department, under the charge of Mr. Cox, every one of the 110 seats was occupied, and there were 40 or 50 applicants besides. In the Primary Department, too, all the seats (120 in number) were filled at once. Indeed, had there been accommodations for 100 additional scholam in the different rooms, there would have been that many more promptly forthcoming.

Some of the children who presented themselves in the Primary and Intermediate Departments, yesterday, do not reside in the Seventh Ward, and cannot, consequently, be admitted into the new School, so long as there are scholars enough from that Ward to fill all the seats. It was quite apparent, from the rush yesterday morning, that there will be more than enough. There are yet 52 vacancies to be filled in the High School, and another examination of candidates takes place at 9 o'clock, Friday morning. Qualified pupils from any of the Wards are ad-Department is full. In the Primary Department, under Miss Osucon, provision will at once be made, for 30, or 40 more pupils.

The new School House presented a very attractive spectacle yesterday. The building is a very handsome one the rooms large, light, and airy; the furniture and fixtures of the best desoription the corps of teachers numerous, well. qualified, and experienced, and the array of bright looking, neatly clad, healthy and happy children, most pleasant to buhold. As there are several things not yet completed about the School-House and enclosure, and the examination of candidates at the present time, or establishing the bad abundon their homes and seek new ones in the for the High School is to be resumed, Frider, there will be no School exercises until Monday morning next. The children were accordingly dismissed, after some brief and apprepriate remarks from their teachers, and admonished to majority of ten thousand, while the Democratic come again, bright and early, Monday morning. Several of the School Commissioners and quite a number of our citizons were present at the open-

They are Democratic nominee, and 2 scattering. No other apparently very durable. It is said they are as tough as leather, and they are certainly very lourned over till this morning, when the Gover- neat in appearance; but the most interesting fea. nor's Message will be sent in. We hope to lay ture about them in these times, is that they cost this document before our readers in to-morrow's much less than clothes made in the ordinary manner. For overcoats and heavy garments, we are inclined to think they will entirely supersede the old style. The New York Tribune thus speaks of the

wonter of manufacturing them:

We examined the manufacture from the crude wool to the faished garments. The wool is first assorted, clouned, picked, dyed, and purtially carded us in an ordinary woolen factory. The last process of the carding machine leaves it in layers are thus arranged transversely to each other. This gives the greatest possible strength to the cloth to be produced, rendering it as clastic as quasities as quasities and us tough as leather. The batt, when completed, is passed through a falt-ing machine, in which the fibers of the wool are partially interwoven so us to form a thick cloth of considerable tenacity.

This is then taken to the tailor, who cuts out in pieces the garments to be made, taking care to cut them about the size desired. Mext these fully bevol the edges to be joined, and baste them together with a cotten thread. The garments now exhibit a rude approach to their proper shape. A cotton cloth having been inserted within the sleeves and the pockets, and wherever soams, except the cotton basting thread, which is easily pulled out. They are then treated much like so many pieces of ordinary woolen cloth, being passed through a fulling apparatus, tousled and shoured. After this, they are put upon copper forms, heated by steam, which com-plete their chape and allow the surface to be finished. They then go into the hands of the trim-mer, who binds the edges, works the button holes, puts on the button and facings, and gets them ready for market.

THE HUTCHISSONS .- A correspondent of the News, who signs himself "A Lover of Music," occupies nearly a column in that journal of yesterday, in trying to prove that the Concert lately given in this city, by the Hutchinsons, for the benefit of the poor, was an "imposition" and a of the manufacture of Electric Oll, which could not be purchased for $1,000,000—and $50,000 will be given to "humbug." He ridicules their personal appear-"humbug." He ridicules their personal appearance, and in all he says there is evident malig-nity. The distinguished musicians who denated col. Grant, 26 North Thirteenth st., Dr. Killingsworth, the proceeds of one of their Concerts for the benevelent object of assisting the Relief Association, are too widely known to require any detenco against an attack emanating from such a quarter.

GENTLEMEN-Some three weeks ago I saw in the Sentinel that there was, and likely to be, very hary times with the poor people of Milwaukee this winter. As every little helps, I concluded to go around and beg for them. I took lone sections, two east and two west of my house, and called at every house where I thought they could afford to give. It took me nearly 5 days I gathered over 40 bushels, which I took to Cedarburgh Mills, and asked Messrs. Hillgen & Schnoeder, if they would grind my load of wheat without taking any toll, as I had gathered it for the poor people of Milwaukee. They willingly complied with my request, and they also found bags to put the flour ic, for the bran and shorts. Mr. Day, the head miller, is going to try for one week to send it on, but if he does not succeed. I shall have to ask the favor of you, as I have no money, and can't beg any. If you have not re de, and hope I ever shall, for the poor, I give this into your hands to distribute to those, who are most in need. In behalf of my neighbors, I mitted into this Department. MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL,-There was very full attendance at the special meeting of the Common Council last night. The Finance Committee reported that they had in connection with the Select Committee, discussed and fully reconsidered the matter referred to them. They were new of opinion that public sentiment was decidedly against the issuing of any more bonds precedent of refunding any portion of the tax, and that the people were very generally in favor of paying the tax in full if an extension of time could be procured.

American Mission axis in India. Mount Kinco, Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1858.
To the Editor of the New York Times:

My DRAB Sin :- Having to-day received a ctter from my friend Rev. R. G. Williams, Missionary of the Presbyterlan Board of Foreign Missions, stationed at Agra, which furnishes some positive information as to the murder of the Fut-tengue Missionaries, I forward you the following extracts, by publishing which you will doubtless confer a great favor on their friends and relatives

AGRA FORT, Monday, Nov. 2, 1857. AGA Form Monday, Nov. 2, 1897.

I doubt not that before this time you have learned that Compbell and all the other Missionaries at Futtebgar have met their death, in the midst of the troubles by which this country has been abstracted during the last five or six mouths. Of the circumstances of their death we have confloting accounts—all of them.sufficiently horrible, and art agreeing in the fact that they were massacred in the public square of Chwnpore, to which place they were sent by Nens Sahlt, who had taken them from the boats at Bithib, who had taken them from the boats at Bit-We have used every effort to learn more, but this is literary all that is yet known touching the matter, nor is it likely that much more will ever be known.

They, with a large number of other fugitives from Futtehgur, while attempting to make their way to Oawapore, at that time supposed to be a place of safety, were seized by the Nena of Bit-toor and sent on to Oawapore, where, some say, they were shot, and others say they were decaptorived any by the time you receive this note; you can send for it when you please. Feeling as I does not be timportant for us to know. I doubt not do, and hope I over shall, for the poor, I give that they died trusting in the merits of Him. whom they had come to make, known to their murderers.

In a letter received a few days before the hight from Futtehgur, Campbell seemed fully hware of their dauger, and fully resigned to the will of God concerning them. And Mrs. Campbell, in a letter to Mrs. Fullerton, about the same time, referred to their perils and fears with charcteristic calmness and submission.

I will subjoin one more extract which you may

I will subjoin one more extract which you may think of subticient interest forginablication.

"You will have seen before now that the excite ment in England is very great, and that the exy for retribution upon the robels, and particularly upon the Sepoys, is loud and deep. Judging from some extracts, from the London newspapers which I have seen, much of this feeling has been excited by an impression generally prevalent in England that Christian women have been expected in the property of t peen, commonly dishonored by their murder

Washington, Jan. 13.

The House went into Committee of the whole on the state of the Union and the President's Annual Message.

Mr. Cluris made a speech against fillionstering. He said that Paulding, like a true and honest sailor, carried out his justructions. It was not bis duty to expound law.

Mr. Clay, of Ala, expressed his acquiescence in every word the President had written on the Central American affairs. Walker was brought home to save his neek, and for that he should be grateful. Mr. Clay maintained that it was not only in the power, but it was the duty of the President to send for Walker over the high seas and bring him back. He thought Paulding had committed a grave error, and that this remark of the President was sufficient censure of the conduct of that officer.

Senark—Mr. Doolitie, of Wisconsin, introduced a joint resolution, directing the presentation of a medal to Com. Paulding.

Debt and Tuxes—Who is Hesponsible? The Madison Argus and Milwaukee News are clamorous for a heavy State Tax. Not satisfied with $300,000 a year, they want to see it increased to double that amount. The Argus professes to think this heavy tax necessary to liquidate outstanding indebteduess, and maintain the State credit. The News, however, very frunkly conlesses that its special roal for an increase of the public burdens is mainly, if not wholly, prompted by a laudable desire to charge the responsibility therefor upon the Republicans, and make it available as so much political capital. The "Democracy" held a meeting the same day, and got into a nice little row over the President's Kansas policy. They succeeded in passing the following resolution, however, by a close vote: Resolved, That the policy recommended by the President for the admission of Kansas as a State, commonds itself to our approval as tend-ing to allay that agitation which has so long disturned the peace and harmony of every section of our country.

POLITICAL .- The New Hampshire Republican State Convention adopted a declaration of sentiment and resolutions, setting forth that it was the duty of Congress to prohibit Slavery in the Territories; that Squatter Sovereignty, as illustrated by the Democratic party, is a sham; that the imposition of an obnexious Constitution and unjust laws upon a people, is tyranny; that we can have but little respect for the pretended elforts to maintain the neutrality laws, while one of the signers of the Ostend Manifesto is Presidont of the U.S.; that while the United States troops are engaged in subjugating Kansas, the golden opportunity of extinguishing the rebellion in Utah is lost, and that, too, while a Democratic Congress is issuing twenty millions of dollars in tressury notes to pay the expenses.

MR. EDITOR: -In the remarks of one of the Aldermen of the First Ward, at a meeting of the Common Council, last Saturday evening, he is oported to have said, that the depreciation of the bonds of the city of Milwaukes, had not been greater, than that of the bonds of other cities, and gave New York as an instance. Now, know of one city at least, that ought to hav been excepted by him, in making that statement, and that is the city of Detroit. I have it from the most undoubted authority, that that city has ever sold a bond for less than a promium of 3 per cent. In the course of the last two or three ears, the people of Detroit have been engaged n erecting extensive Hydraulic Works, for the supply of the city with water. During the progress of the work, they have found it necessary, from time to time, to Issue boads bearing an interest of 7 per cout.; the last issue of bonds for that purpose was made, I believe, carly last summer, which brought up the amount to $800,000. Last fail it was proposed to build a House of Correction to cost $100,000, proposals for the whole amount of which were received at par, at u time, as every body knows, of great monetary distruce, while, at the same time, we were enselling them at fifty cents on the dollar. The counted for, when we take into account anothe fact, that Detroit has now in hartreasury $40,000 subject to deaft, and added to her sinking fund, last year, $25,000. I have it from the same authority, viz: the Mayor of that city, himself, that their taxes for

I will make no farther comments on the foregoing facts, at this time, but will leave your readers to draw conclusions for themselves. I omitted to state, however, the Police force of that large city, consists of one constable from each ward (ten in number,) with four special constables, all of which do not cost the city one cent. It has been proposed by the Common Council, to farther propup the credit of our city (which we have been their areas along the logging camps—what there are already saved) by the issue of more ing account of the logging operations in that bonds.
